

Address SearchSM

Find past-due customers quickly and easily

It's a challenge to locate customers whose accounts are past-due. But you can improve your right-party connect rates. Let us help you with the up-to-date contact information you need. With Address SearchSM you can significantly enhance your collection efforts and find delinquent accounts. Our product features extensive, reliable data on more than 220 million credit-active consumers from our powerful File OneSM database, providing you with the quality and the quantity of information you need to locate that elusive customer.

Beyond giving you your customers' other known addresses, as reported to Experian, Address Search supplies names and contact information for other individuals — including potential relatives — associated with the same input address. This data immediately fortifies your search efforts with additional contacts who may have information that can lead to your customer.

Comprehensive consumer information

For each address submitted, the Address Search profile will return data on up to 20 consumers associated with that address, displaying only nonpermissible-purpose information to protect the privacy of those listed. The data includes all names and up to four addresses for each consumer, as well as phone numbers (with the demographics band option). When more than one consumer matches the inquiry address, consumers are displayed in the order of when the inquiry address was last reported on their files to Experian, beginning with the most recent.

With Address Search, take advantage of:

- Quick access to other known addresses, plus additional names, addresses and phone numbers of contacts to facilitate location.
- Streamlined, relevant and easy-to-read reports.
- Enhanced productivity.
- Boosted recovery rates.
- Increased profitability.

The shortest route to recovery

Address Search speeds your recovery efforts because, unlike other address tracing products on the market, each report is displayed in a concise, uniquely streamlined format that expedites your ability to associate your customer with parents, spouses, siblings and other relatives. Instead of wasting time interpreting the information, you can act on it — making contacts, maximizing productivity and shortening the route to recovery.
