ASSIST//ck

Powerful money laundering detection tools to address your investigation and compliance needs

Money laundering and terrorism financing. It's a real risk with grave economic impact. Combating money laundering is an enterprise-wide responsibility and our solutions provide an automated system and process to monitor, detect, investigate, document and report potential money laundering activities.

Today's anti–money laundering challenge

The rising incidence and complexity of international financial crimes, coupled with a stringent regulatory environment, has made it increasingly difficult to track transactions and proactively uncover, report and investigate financial crimes. The October 2001 enactment of the USA PATRIOT Act placed heavier pressure on banks of all sizes and other businesses to join in the international fight against money laundering and terrorists' financing. No longer is it sufficient to scan government-sponsored lists of sanctioned individuals solely upon account openings. Rather, management must be vigilant in its continuous efforts to monitor transactions, track trends and effectively report potential money laundering. Without effective systems and processes in place, valuable monetary and human resources are depleted in an attempt to comply with regulations.

Anti–money laundering and risk product

We offer anti–money laundering products that provide relief to the complex and changing dynamics of money laundering and potential risk. Our software enables banks, brokerage firms, insurance companies and other businesses to effectively track, detect, investigate, report and manage suspicious activity.

How ASSIST//ck works

ASSIST//ck systematically profiles account activities and monitors transaction trends to identify potential money laundering. ASSIST//ck will help your business meet regulatory compliance and implement automated systems and processes required to monitor, detect, report, investigate, document and Report money laundering activities.

Some of the world's largest and most-respected financial institutions, including banks, brokerage firms and other businesses, rely on our tools to help combat money laundering and meet regulatory requirements, including those outlined by the USA PATRIOT Act and other international regulations

Benefits of our AML Suite

We have a suite of add-on products to help you build a strong AML program at every phase of your customer's lifecycle. In the onboarding phase, we have a Know your Customer (KYC) module with integrated Customer Risk scoring and Watchlist Screening capabilities. For ongoing monitoring, our rules-based engine ASSIST//ck allows you to setup and customize advanced monitoring rules. The integrated alerts case management allows you to track and document all the alerts generated by the system. To report suspicious activity, the SAR module electronically fills the report and keep an audit log of all your SAR filled. And finally for your relationship manager and branch officer, we have our ASSIST//fe web module. It will track, review and document your customers' activities. Our suite of software products analyzes how money moves in, around and out of a bank or other business. It identifies suspect patterns of behavior, creates reports and helps reduce administrative burdens and costs associated with manual compliance processes.
