

Safety at VISION2022

At Experian®, the health and well-being of our clients, Experian staff and their families are our top priority, which is why we created the below set of guidelines that put safety protocols in place at our in-person events such as Vision 2022. These guidelines were created with you in mind, hoping you feel that Experian is taking all reasonable precautions to safeguard your health if you decide to join us in Los Angeles.

As a reminder, this situation is fluid and we'll continue to monitor any changes both leading up to and during Vision 2022 functions in accordance with official CDC, national and local guidelines in addition to any venue- or location-specific regulations required within the boundaries of our event venue. We want to provide attendees with as safe an environment as possible within our means given the current climate so you can focus on the high-quality content and important conversations that make Vision a must-attend conference.

Experian has developed a comprehensive set of enhanced measures that fall into four main pillars to provide attendees with the confidence needed to feel safe at our events.

Vaccine requirement

Vision 2022 will require all attendees to be fully vaccinated to attend the conference. We have adopted the guidelines provided by the CDC with respect to being fully vaccinated. For more information regarding vaccination status, please visit the CDC website. Proof of vaccination will be required. Please note that not all venue workers may be vaccinated.

Attendees are encouraged to make a conscious effort to keep their distance as recommended by government guidelines.

Communication
